

Monday 5th October 2009 saw the launch of Messy Church in Bromham. This is a development from the Fishermen's Friends group that has been running at St Owen's for a number of years. There is always the sense of uncertainty when it comes to starting a new projects (are people going to come? Will they enjoy it?) These uncertainties were quickly quashed as we had 10 mums, 12 children plus 4 helpers, which is a real encouragement for the first one. Suzi and Carol have worked hard at inviting mums to come along.

There was a lovely relaxed atmosphere (as relaxed as it can be with small children-guffaw!) with various craft activities for the children to take part in. There were toddler munchies for the children to eat, and Carol had made a delicious soup for us all to enjoy. We had a celebration up by the altar, singing songs together followed by a prayer. The theme this week was harvest so we were giving thanks for all the food God gives, and remembering those that aren't as fortunate as us in this respect.

To finish we had tea and coffee with donuts. It would be great to see you if you are a mum or carer of preschool children and are around between 11.30am and 1:30 p.m. We now have a page on facebook as well as the benefice website where you can catch up on all the Messy news!
